Jane and I will take care of discussing with Lincoln.

The working assumption is that the Administrator is leaving on Sunday. But, as we've seen, there have been surprises every day. Better to reinforce what was in the dip note, than to risk two more changes.

Hodayah should have Administrator's comments in Bologna to share with the interpreters. There is not much.

Thanks, Mark

"AdministratorScottPruitt" Tweeted this. Would you like to handle this, or should I (and if it is me, what way do you suggest, since I know that you're in a precarious position as well and Lincoln is very new?) Commerce did us a favor by putting this together, even changed the time (burning a bridge with Dow in the process), and then we broke their rule.

I know this is dependent on POTUS, but it is better to say that he is leaving and have him surprise the Italians by staying a day instead of leaving them hanging.
